60 PER CENT OF SHOPS BACK TO SIX DAYS BASIS County Will Build 65 Miles of Road At Once

PLANS TO PAY FOR WORK WITH BONDS ON BASIS OF PAR; BIDS ARE SOUGHT

Every Section of Morgan Will Be Connected By New Chain

$440,000 TO BE SPENT
IN BUILDING PROGRAM
Employment Will Be Furnished
For Hundreds of Citizens
This Year

The board of revenue of the county has launched a comprehensive program for the entire rehabilitation of the roads of the county, and today advertised for sealed bids for the construction of approximately 65 miles of macadam roads in practically every section of the county, these to connect with roads already built.

This is by far the largest number of miles of road construction undertaken by the county in recent years, and will do much to make it possible to have roadways in every section of the county whereby those from the rural districts can have access to travel the year round. On account of the quality of material entering into their construction they will be passable over the entire year for cars and horse-drawn vehicles.

The funds with which to build and repair were made available by an election held two years ago in which was voted $440,000 for road construction. This is a county road building program and is separate and apart from the state bond election.

The bonds must be sold at par, and the contract will contain the provision that the work is to be paid for in county bonds.

It is a source of gratification to all the citizens of the county that the building will begin as early in the spring as conditions will warrant. This will do much toward furnishing work for practically every section of the county at a time when it is badly needed. It is understood that the matter of actual work will be carefully planned and pushed at as early a date as is at all practical.

A more propitious time could not have been selected to launch a program of county road building than the present, considering the miserable condition in which the thoroughfares are in in every section of the county.

HOSIERY MILL HEAD INSPECTS PLANT

J. C. Carver, vice president of the Cooper Wells and company, was here today enroute to Brunswick, Ga., to attend a business meeting. While here Mr. Carver inspected the local branch of the big knitting company and declared himself as greatly pleased with the local plant.

The hosiery mill here is installing a large amount of new machinery, which will add considerably to its output, in addition to providing employment for additional operatives.

Mr. Carver is interested in Muscle Shoals and the development there and was planning to make a trip of inspection over the project if time permits.

THREE EVILS ARE NAMED
(International News Service)
DETROIT, March 3—Liquor, the red light district and gambling are the three evils endangering Detroit homes and threatening to ruin the young men and women of this city, the Rev. H. C. Olcott, general superintendent of the Detroit Baptist Union, told members of the Federation of Women's Clubs in urging them to help in arousing public sentiment and in giving every support to the police and federal officers.

Butler Appeals For Acceptance of Engstrom Bid

Former Senator Declares Development Of Shoals Project Would Go Far Toward Reducing The Cost Of Living

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, March 3—The government's property at Muscle Shoals, Ala., properly developed and operated will have a tremendous influence on lessening the high cost of living, former United States Senator Marion Butler, of North Carolina, told the house military affairs committee today, when he appeared before it in support of the bid made by Frederick Engstrom.

The Engstrom offer, Butler said, proposed to devote the Southern project entirely to the production of nitrate and finished fertilizer which, given the farmers at cheaper than present prices, would relieve the depression in agriculture and bring living costs down.

"The Engstrom offer proposes to meet in every sense the declared public purpose and need of the country expressed when the United States began the Shoals project. Our proposition is to devote the entire Muscle Shoals plant to the development of nitrate and to the study of the best processes for the production of nitrate."

"The United States is far behind other countries in cheapening the cost of fertilizer and through that, lessening the high cost of living. We are starving our soil and until we change that, agriculture will be depressed."

PREMIER PRESENTS HIS 'RESIGNATION' NEXT WEDNESDAY

(International News Service)
London, March 3—Premier Lloyd George will present his resignation to King George on Wednesday, unless he is assured of the undivided support of the coalition members of the house of commons, according to the Evening Standard today.

Certain unionist leaders, notably Sir Austin Chamberlain and A. J. Bal-four, are making efforts to pacify the Premier. Despite the fact that Lloyd George is said to have placed a time limit upon his "ultimatum" to the tory "die hards," some of the newspapers expressed the opinion that the political situation was easier than it was yesterday afternoon when the unionist leader decided to put a complete tory platform in the field at the next general election.

It is reported that King George has already arranged to ask Austin Chamberlain to form a cabinet if Lloyd George retires.

New Drug Firm Will Be Opened On April First

McDougal and Woodard is the style of a new drug firm which will open April 1. The firm has purchased the confectionery store of Houze and Plimmons and will begin business at the latter's old stand on Second avenue.

The firm will be composed of H. McDougal and T. B. Woodard, both of whom have been identified with the retail drug business here for many years. Much success is predicted for them in their new endeavor.

HARDING IS MAKING "REP" AS ONE OF 3 PARDON PRESIDENTS

Copyright 1922 by I. N. S.
WASHINGTON, March 3—President Harding, in his first year in the white house which ends tomorrow, has become one of the three great pardon presidents in history.

In opening penitentiary doors to federal prisoners, he already ranks alongside Lincoln and Wilson and if the same pace is maintained through the four years of his term, it is certain he will set a new record in peace time pardons from the white house.

Altogether since March 4, 1921, President Harding has extended executive clemency in more than 300 cases. The record today shows: 23 cases in which full pardons have been granted; 156 prisoners have had their sentences commuted; 124 persons have had their civil rights restored by executive order after their release from prison and after end of their sentence.

The best known case acted upon was that of Eugene Debs, Mr. Harding's Socialist opponent last year.

Buggy Shaft Hits Sample Case And Salesman Hurt

Chester Sartor, salesman for the A. Z. Bailey Grocery company, is suffering injuries received in one of the most unusual accidents on record here.

Sartor was on one of his trips into a rural section near here and was carrying his sample case in his hand. As he passed a horse and buggy, in some manner the shaft of the buggy struck the sample case, throwing Mr. Sartor to the ground. His hip was painfully injured. He apparently struck a stone in the fall and barely escaped a fractured hip.

GOVERNMENT MAY FORCE OPERATORS TO HOLD A PARLEY WITH COAL UNIONS

Former Look With Disfavor On Suggestion Of President
Harding

OFFICIALS DECLINE TO STATE FUTURE COURSE
Refuse To Forecast What Government's Next Step
Will Be

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, March 3—The government today is confronted with the problem of forcing the bituminous coal operators to join the miners in a conference to avert the threatened strike on April 1.

It was learned today on the highest authority that the operators look with disfavor on President Harding's suggestion, conveyed informally by Secretary of Labor Davis, that the two groups meet in conference to adjust their differences.

Such a meeting is specifically provided for in the pact signed by the operators and miners in 1920 and is to the effect that "an interstate joint conference be held prior to April 1, 1922." The time and place of holding this meeting was left to a committee of two operators and two miners from each state represented in the agreement, together with the international officers of the United Mine Workers.

Officials declined to say what steps would be taken to make the operators live up to the terms of their signed contract. It is known, however, that the administration will take strong measures to avert the threatened strike.

The fact that the anthracite operators and miners are to confer on March 15 in an effort to iron out their difficulties has made administration leaders hopeful that the soft coal operators and miners also can be brought together.

Youngest Girl Preacher Has No Use For Modern Flapper, She Declares

(International News Service)
MIAMI, Okla., March 3—A slangy world calls her the "flapper preacher," but she is not that at all.

Just a slip of a girl is Miss Orietta Stoddard, still in grade school, but already an ordained minister of the gospel. The district conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in recent session at Tulsa admitted her to the ministry and thereby made her the youngest ordained preacher in the United States. She was voted in by acclamation, after having passed every test successfully.

Miss Stoddard has no use for the butterfly life of the modern "flapper" just in her teens. Jazz music's most syncopated moans and whines fall to entice her, for she has given up all social activities, including dancing.

"Cake eaters" in flaring bell-bottom trousers, a fashion epidemic now raging in Oklahoma, fail to arouse her, although she is one of the most popular girls in school.

"My work is more important than silly love affairs," she said. "I have been called by my God and I intend to make the ministry my life's work."

Miss Stoddard made her pulpit debut in her home town, Miami, where she now is in the seventh grade at school. She first attracted widespread attention as a preacher of the gospel, however, when she delivered a sermon to the congregation of the First Methodist church at Baxter Springs, Kansas, at an evening service. The Rev. O. B. Morris, district superintendent, declared she led more young people to the gospel on that occasion than had the regular minister during any previous meeting.

Two years ago the girl preacher, after joining the church, first began

NAVY PREPARING TO DROP ANCHOR WHEN DENBY GIVES WORD TO 'SAVE ALL FUEL'

Nothing Appears On Horizon
Today To Halt Threatened
Orders

LEADERS DEADLOCKED
OVER APPROPRIATION
Secretary Declared To Believe
There's Nothing Else For Him To Do

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, March 3—The navy's anchors are ready to drop. With the navy department and congress apparently at odds over fuel money, nothing appeared on the horizon today to stop the ready orders to navy ships to "drop anchor where you are," as Secretary Denby has put it.

Denby is said to feel that there is nothing else for him to do. Congressional leaders appeared adamant in their determination to hold the navy's fuel appropriation to $8,300,000 which the navy says will not permit a wheel to turn without running deeper into the mire of deficiency.

It is understood orders are ready to be flashed to expectant ships at any moment. These orders will literally order the ships to drop anchor where they ride. They will not even attempt to make their home ports and where they anchor they stay indefinitely, to all indications.

Ships in the Caribbean, the near east and other so-called trouble zones, will have to remain in operation. They will be exempted from the order when it is issued, it is stated.

These exceptions are vessels engaged in work primarily of a diplomatic character, upholding American prestige and otherwise carrying out missions originating in the state department.

Youngest Girl Preacher Has No Use For Modern Flapper, She Declares

her religious work. Under the direction of her pastor, the Rev. G. A. Kleinstemper, of Miami, she prepared her first sermon, which was delivered from the Rev. Kleinstemper's pulpit. She later preached regularly at the old folks' home at Miami and then filled a temporary vacancy at Picher, Okla., for two services.

Miss Stoddard plans to complete her high school education at Miami and will attend the Oklahoma City Methodist college to finish her gospel training. During the approaching school vacation, however, she will be assigned to regular preaching throughout the district, according to Mr. Morris.

Wave Lengths Are Changed By Touch Of Human Hands

Amateur operation of radio-phones in the Twin Cities is becoming a popular amusement. Announcement was made several days ago that it was planned to have a "wireless dance" soon at the Lyons hotel, when the music will be furnished by wireless by a New York orchestra.

Today Frank P. Lide announced the completion of a wireless set at his shop. The process of installing the set has been underway for several days and last night was given a thorough test, a musical program in Detroit being heard plainly here.

Mr. Lide is an enthusiastic radio fan. In connection with the operation he tells an unusual story of how the electricity in the human body can affect a wireless phone. During the installation of his set, "connection" had been obtained with Detroit and a musical program was being heard. The receiver touched his finger to a part of the receiving set and instead of the orchestra in Detroit being heard, the listener heard a saxophone playing in Pittsburgh.

Making It Hard On Convicts Who Seek To Escape

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 3—Convicts who escape or attempt to escape from state prisons are in for a hard time in the future. The state convict department has decided to begin the enforcement of an almost forgotten section of the code which provides that an additional sentence up to one year may be imposed on any convict who escapes or attempts to escape. This section has been in the code for many years but has not been enforced, the only punishment imposed against escapes being the loss of the short time allowed for good behavior.

James Edwards, alias James Birdsong, who escaped from Kilby prison several weeks ago, is the first to receive an additional sentence for escaping. He was given six months by Judge Leon McCord.

W. M. Lewis, alias Robert A. Howard, Covington county convict, who escaped last week, was recaptured and will be brought before the circuit court on a charge of escaping. Lewis was given two to three years in December for forgery. He was captured before he left the prison grounds at Speigner.

$50,000 DAMAGE

NASHVILLE, March 3—Damage of $50,000, it was estimated today, resulted late last night when the transportation building of the N. C. & St. L. railway here, was destroyed by fire. Valuable records, dating back to 1875, were destroyed.

ORDER RESTORING LABOR SCHEDULE STAYS IN EFFECT INDEFINITE TIME

Coach Department Will Return To Normal Basis Saturday Morning

GENERAL REJOICING
OVER TWIN CITIES

Large Sum Will Be Added To Local Payroll By Order

Employees of the Louisville and Nashville railroad shops here, working in the coach department, will return to a basis of six days a week immediately, it became known here today.

The new order effects about 60 per cent for the men employed in the shops, it was said.

The coach department includes the paint shop and wood-working sections but does not include the locomotive section.

The employees of the shop here have been working 5 days a week for some time and the new order, which will remain in effect indefinitely, caused general rejoicing throughout the Twin Cities this afternoon.

Optimists professed to see in the order returning the larger portion of the shops to a six day basis a gradual return to normal working conditions here.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID
FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.COLONEL WORTHINGTON AND HIS SPEECH
AT THE MONTGOMERY FORD MEETING.

The many Twin City residents who have heard Col. J. W. Worthington speak from local platforms in support of Muscle Shoals, and who were fortunate enough to hear him again at the state wide pro-Ford meeting, had no difficulty in identifying the present distinguished engineer, as the same gentleman whom the had known so favorably years ago. It was a tribute to the intelligence of the vast audience gathered in the Auditorium Wednesday, as well as to Mr. Worthington, that such an enthusiastic reception was given the veteran Shoals promoter. When the time came for a photo of the speakers seated on the stage, Col. Worthington, out of modesty, was about not to arise with the other speakers; immediately a storm of protest arose, and the crowd ordered that Mr. Worthington stand up. As quickly as he responded, it was a signal for another demonstration, while later, when he spoke following Judge B. M. Allen, he was cheered to the echo time and time again, as he proceeded with his address.

The crowd seemed to know that it was Worthington who, next to Ford himself, they must remember for all their natural lives, as the one man, who rescued the Shoals proposition, following its defeat by a Republican House of Representatives. Many declared that finally, history will record Col. Worthington as the real savior of the great project in that it was he, who first suggested Mr. Ford as the man to lease the Shoals, and as it was he who finally won the consent of the great man, to enter as a bidder for the property. At any rate no man at the wonderful gathering got quite such a hold on the imagination of the people as did Col. Worthington. It was felt that no other living man had such a large fund of knowledge on the technical questions involved in the whole Muscle Shoals problem. It was felt that of all the men present none were so close to Henry Ford—the man of majestic power upon whom all were relying to have hopes realized and their prayers answered. While Col. Worthington, was not in fact, as he said "the personal representative of Mr. Ford," the great audience seemed to feel that to all intents and purposes, Mr. Ford himself, was speaking to them through their fellow countryman Col. Worthington.

And the martial spirit manifested by the Colonel in his every utterance was a constant delight to his audience. The speaker was never more interesting than when he read the telegram from Congressman Hull, denying that he (Hull) was demanding that Ford modify his bid once again, unless it was when he denounced those anti-Ford spokesmen, who had said that the "Ford bid was dead."

By no means was the large part of Mr. Worthington's speech of a controversial nature—he devoted most of his time to explaining the great value of hydro-electric power as an aid to farmers as a wealth producer, and labor saving resource. He said that a certain Southern state (North Carolina) came out of the civil war, the poorest of all the ex-Confederate states, paying the smallest amount of taxes, but that now that state paid more federal taxes, than any New England state, save Massachusetts, and that this state paid more taxes than any other Southern state "not excepting Texas." The speaker said that in large part the 400,000 horsepower hydro-electric power in North Carolina accounted for her increased wealth.

A picture was then drawn of Alabama and what her wealth would be after her near a 1,000,000 H.P. was developed at Muscle Shoals. Col. Worthington also made a notable statement on what a revolution hydro-electric power would work in rail-roading in the next 25 years. He commented at length on the fact, so far as he knew, that the Louisville & Nashville Railroad company, was the only great corporation to come out squarely and above board as favoring the Ford contract against all other offers for Muscle Shoals.

"WINE FOR WOMEN"

BRANDY FOR HEROES"

Repeal of the Volstead law is only an entering wedge.

Let us repeal the Volstead law and furnish our brothers with beer and wine, and whiskey, 110 proof, will follow in its wake. Then the old evils, murder, threats cut, shooting of best friends, neglected wives and children. Oh, yes, let's have beer and wine and it is only one more step to stronger drink with its attendant disgrace, rags and hunger, death and destruction. Statistics show in the United States since prohibition was enacted that "whiskey cures" are reaching a condition where some have closed for lack of patrons and others anticipate closing their doors at an early date, for the inebriates are nearly all gone and there are no more hell holes of open saloons to train our young, promising boys to take their places.

All of the big cities show, the statistics are conclusive, tremendous decline since prohibition began, in arrests caused by interference, and this, too, in the face of disturbed conditions following the most awful war that the world ever saw.

In some counties of Kansas where prohibition has been in effect for forty years, such a thing as a grand jury is practically unknown, as grand juries have not been empaneled in a quarter of a century. Workhouses in some of our cities have closed for the reason that whiskey did not furnish human derelicts to maintain them.

There is no argument for the return of the awful conditions that existed when the "devil's brew" was to be obtained on every corner in this land. Every man who drinks or who does not drink knows the giving away one inch to sale of beer or wine, will be followed by flooding our fair country with crime of every conceivable character.

Let the press and pulpit thunder against this damnable traffic, and do it with all the power possible. Do not listen to the sophistry, "It's a dead issue." The unscrupulous are lying awake nights trying to devise ways and means to bring into our lives again this awful thing—whiskey.

Though, with great difficulty, our government is handling the makers of "moonshine" and whiskey smugglers, it is doing to the death gradually this enemy of civilization, and these earnest officers must have the moral support of our citizenship.

BOLL WEEVIL IN WINTER QUARTERS.

Not many men know as much about the boll weevil as Professor Coad. Professor Coad is in charge of the Bureau of Entomology's Delta Laboratory, which is near Tallulah, La. Among the many things that Professor Coad has learned about the boll weevil is that when there is no more cotton to be destroyed he takes himself to the moss that beards the trees of that section and ensconces himself for the winter. There he either dies or lives till another planting of cotton is offered him to operate on. Whether he perishes or survives depends on the temperature during his hibernation. If it gets cold he is apt to perish, for there are temperatures even in that latitude against which the moss gives no warmth; if it does not get very cold he survives and begins to stretch himself along about the middle of February, preparatory to the season's operations. About that time every year, for several years, it has been the practice of Professor Coad to gather bunches of moss from a number of trees considerably removed from one another and count the number of live and dead boll weevils to be found in every bunch. A simple calculation with the data thus gotten will supply a pretty good estimate of the number of dead and live boll weevils in a ton of moss, and that information, when compared with information obtained in like manner in preceding years, foretells with substantial accuracy, as experience has proved, how much an offensive these Huns of the cotton patches will probably make during the season of operations almost beginning. Professor Coad has just finished his last calculation. The prophecy of it is not encouraging. It indicates, among other things, that while the number of weevils taking refuge in the moss last fall was smaller than in three of the eight years for which Professor Coad has kept records, the number surviving the winter is five times greater than ever before. The mortality was light beyond all example. The weather bureau made the winter to the boll weevil's order. For example, the examinations showed that 424 weevils had taken refuge in a ton of moss in 1914 and only 129 in 1921, but also that of the 424 only 10 were alive in February, 1915, whereas of the 129 that had taken refuge in a ton of moss last fall, only two perished, 127 being alive in February this year. Thus, subject only to the chance that the weather will be extraordinarily destructive of the boll weevils, the expectation must be that the infestation will be much greater this year than in any years during the last eight. The wise policy for every farmer is fairly manifest. It is to devote to cotton all the land and energy he has after making sure of a plentiful supply of those things he will have to buy if he does not grow them.

Truth, like the rock of Gibraltar, stands the storms that rage from within and without. It is the one indissoluble element that survives. Crushed to earth it rises again. Pushed to the darkest corner it emerges in to the brightest spot. Abused and mistreated, it never gets angry, but even tempered when all about is fury, it bides its turn, and has never lost a verdict on the field of battle.

Discontentment makes bad bargains. Discontentment makes big blunders. It is that nagging something that urges one to give up the effort and turn to other ways where the offering is nothing but least resistance. A going down the way of the tide where no effort is necessary, merely to drift with the current. Listen not to its wooings. Turn a deaf ear to the entreaties, for nine times out of ten cases, discontentment chooses the one that is the most costly. It promises much and has really nothing to offer.

The uncoil of public opinion was completed at Montgomery Wednesday when citizens from every section of the state were on hand to voice their sentiments on the one absorbing issue which is uppermost in the minds of all Alabamians just now. It was positive; had lots of vim and vitality, and there was not a discordant note in the whole proceedings. There is no doubt that this strong indorsement of representative citizens of the state will be heard and must be reckoned with. Their emphatic declaration cannot be sidestepped or pushed aside.

Any move that will tend to make better conditions and better living from the humblest to the highest, is of sufficient importance to merit the attention of all who have one spark of the Altruistic spirit imbedded in their souls. The start may be away off from what the form will be when the reality of it is attained, but from the humblest beginnings some times have grown the greatest blessings that broadened as they gained momentum.

There were perhaps three thousand accredited delegates at the mass-meeting held at Montgomery Wednesday. These delegates represent many thousands more Alabamians who were not there in person, but in spirit, and were in hearty accord with everything which was said and done. It planted the seeds that will grow and produce abundant fruit.

You might just as well know it right now—the cause of skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, boils and so on, is right in the blood. There is no getting away from it. Science has proved it. mon sense to simply treat the skin. A bottle of S. S. S. will prove to you what is happening in your blood. S. S. S. is a scientific blood cleanser—it drives out the impurities which cause eczema, tetter, rash, pimples, boils, blackheads, blotches and other skin eruptions. When these impurities are driven out, you can't stop several very nice things from happening. Your lips turn naturally rosy. Your eyes sparkle. Your complexion clears. It becomes beautiful. Your face looks like that of a prosperous, ruddy, well-fed, refined gentleman, or if you are a woman, your complexion becomes the real kind that the whole world so admires. S. S. ## Alleged Slayer Of Husband Tried

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-DeCATUR Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 3—

Mrs. Lillian Gabriel, charged with the murder of her husband, Charles Gabriel, is scheduled to go on trial in the Montgomery circuit court today. Mrs. Gabriel shot and killed her husband two months ago and after being released on bond was indicted by the grand jury. She will plead self-defense.

Mrs. Gabriel has been an active worker in the Sunday school of the First Baptist church for several years and her teacher, Mrs. Gerald Salter, and many of her classmates were in the court room Thursday in the expectation that her case would be called. Because of the trial of Richard Hamlett, charged with the murder of Hendrix Harwell, the Gabriel case was postponed.

Gabriel was killed in his apartment on Madison avenue. The defense will contend that he made threats against his wife several times and was approaching with a weapon when Mrs. Gabriel fired, inflicting wounds from which he died at once.

Richard Hamlett's case was completed late Thursday and submitted to the jury during the evening. It is alleged that he killed Harwell at the Black Cat cafe in West End during the Christmas holidays. The state contended that he took Harwell's life without giving him a chance to protect himself. The defense insisted that Hamlett fired to protect himself and that Harwell was seeking to draw a gun at the time Hamlett fired. Police officers testified that they searched the body of Harwell and did not find a gun. The defense contended that a friend of Harwell removed the gun before the officers arrived.

The Black Cat cafe, which was operated in the cotton mill district, has since been closed.

Testimony Heard Supporting Rates

Montgomery Bureau, Albany-DeCATUR Daily

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 3—

Testimony of F. G. Browder, assistant general freight agent of the Western of Alabama, in support of the schedules of rates which the railroads have proposed for intrastate traffic in Alabama in lieu of present class and commodity rates was concluded and the public service commission today recessed the general rate hearing until March 8. Mr. Browder took the witness stand Wednesday morning. When the hearing is resumed on March 8 testimony will be given by Charles Barham, general freight agent of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, and Roy Pope, general freight agent of the Atlanta, Birmingham railroad.

The consideration of the rates on coal, coke and coke breeze in carload lots will begin on March 13.

Passenger rates and financial and accounting statistics of the railroads will be gone into by witnesses for the railroads March 16.

RESUME HEARINGS

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 3—

(Special)—Hearings in the general freight rate case involving readjustments of all freight rates between points in Alabama are scheduled to be resumed before the public service commission next week. During the week witnesses for the railroads will give further testimony in support of the tariffs which they have proposed to establish in Alabama in lieu of the tariffs which have been in effect for many years.

Great For Bad Coughs and Colds

Make Your Own Medicine and Have the Best There Is.

You'll Say It's Good When All Mucus Disappears and Clean Healthy Membrane is Your Reward

Here is an inexpensive home-made remedy that you can't beat and one that will quickly bring up that phlegm, stop the snuffling, relieve the clogged nostrils, make breathing easy and cause stubborn colds and persistent coughs to vacate—many times over night.

Try it right away if you suffer from catarrh, chest colds or any irritating nose or throat troubles and you'll be glad you ran across this little bit of advice.

Get from any druggist, one ounce of Peppermint (double strength), add to it a little sugar and enough water to make one-half pint. You can make it in two minutes and when it is mixed you can pride yourself on having a medicine that acts directly on the membrane of the nose and throat and acts so effectively that all phlegm, tickling and inflammation speedily disappears.—Advertisement.

Children that grow too fast and play too hard or perhaps work too hard at school (oh, yes, some children do work hard at school), become pale and a little run-down, and then mothers and fathers become worried about them. The youngsters do not eat with their usual big appetites, and so they become thin and tire out easily. There is a simple and good remedy for this. It is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the tonic rich in a certain form of iron that is readily absorbed by the system. Gude's Pepto-Mangan will soon put the color back into the children's cheeks and give them the kind of an appetite every mother loves to see. It is sold by druggists in two forms—liquid and tablet—and is absolutely safe to give to any child. Ask your home doctor what he thinks about Gude's Pepto-Mangan.—Advertisement.

MRS. T. H. ALEXANDER HONORED
Mrs. LeRoy McEntire was the charming hostess Thursday afternoon to her Bridge Club, when the usual number of tables was augmented by four tables and guests in honor of Mrs. R. E. Jones, of Athens, Ga., who is visiting her mother, Mrs. D. C. Almon and Mrs. T. H. Alexander, who this morning left for Nashville where Mr. Alexander becomes a member of the staff of the Nashville Tennessean. The attractiveness of the LeRoy McEntire livingroom was enhanced by pink Primroses and baskets of pink and white carnations. The dining room color scheme was developed in spring-time Jonquils, the dining table that was veiled in a handsome drawn linen cloth was centered by a bronze basket of Jonquils, the buffet was very gay in silver baskets of Jonquils. After the prize presentations to Mrs. Wallace Carson for the club, the honorees were presented hand made handkerchiefs. Mrs. T. F. Peebles who assisted in serving the hot chicken luncheon cut the consolation, a beautiful blooming hyacinth. The guest list included Mesdames W. E. Crawford, Will Wyker, A. A. Hardage, H. D. Greer, O. C. Parker, Allen Wallace, Roy Billings, Miss Mabel Parker, Messrs. R. Green, D. F. Peebles, W. R. Smith, R. H. Wolcott, R. E. Pearson, W. Carson.

Mrs. Carson on the count made top score and won the club prize. Mrs. Allen Wallace won the guest prize. This was remarked in by each participant as a "beautiful party."

CLIFF SAUNDERS AND BOB SHEPPARD
The good wives of these gentlemen honored them last evening with a birthday dinner at the Saunders residence on Grant street, when Spencer Garnett, W. M. Burt, J. W. Jones, Joe Petty, Frank Lide, Ted Sheppard and Chas. Rountree, Benjamin Bloodworth, Council Elliott and W. R. Shelton responded to invitation to join in extending happy congratulations in celebrating their respective birthdays. Bob, his birthday coming only on leap year, has now had six anniversaries, which Cliff studiously refused to acknowledge the number of years elapsing since his advent. The occasion was a most delightful one. Mesdames Saunders and Sheppard had so arranged the hour, that, upon the arrival of their respective responses, guests awaited, having arrived in advance, and greeted them on their return from the labors of the day. It was a jolly, merry assemblage that was served a dinner calculated to cheer and delight. The hostesses were assisted by Miss Alice Hutton, Cliff Jr., aiding and abetting in an evening's enjoyment to those who were privileged in wishing for Cliff and Bob many happy returns of the day. Following the dining the wives of guests joined them at a dance at the Lyons Hotel where joy reigned supreme until a late hour.

Mrs. S. P. Moore, of Birmingham, state Bible school superintendent of Disciples of Christ is the guest of Mrs. W. O. Talley. Mrs. Moore is teaching a class at the First Christian church in the standard teachers training course and a class in specialization work. On Sunday morning credits will be given for taking the work and these credits will apply on the certificate given by the International Board when the work is completed.

Portable Grinder.
A portable electric grinder for the machine shop, designed to be moved over the work, has the power of one-horsepower to one-half horsepower placed above the work out of the operator's way. The spindle is bored with a five-sixteenth-inch hole to receive an adjustable shaft for interior grinding and the use of interchangeable grinding wheels adapts the little machine to a wide range of work.
Love's Itinerary.
J. B. thinks a novel idea for some novelist would be to begin a story with his hero and heroine meeting in Friendship, N. Y.; then have them journey successively to Love, Va.; Kissimmee, Fla.; Ring, Ark.; Parson, Ky., and finally settle down in Home, Pa.—Boston Transcript.

CLIFF SAUNDERS AND BOB SHEPPARD
The good wives of these gentlemen honored them last evening with a birthday dinner at the Saunders residence on Grant street, when Spencer Garnett, W. M. Burt, J. W. Jones, Joe Petty, Frank Lide, Ted Sheppard and Chas. Rountree, Benjamin Bloodworth, Council Elliott and W. R. Shelton responded to invitation to join in extending happy congratulations in celebrating their respective birthdays. Bob, his birthday coming only on leap year, has now had six anniversaries, which Cliff studiously refused to acknowledge the number of years elapsing since his advent. The occasion was a most delightful one. Mesdames Saunders and Sheppard had so arranged the hour, that, upon the arrival of their respective responses, guests awaited, having arrived in advance, and greeted them on their return from the labors of the day. It was a jolly, merry assemblage that was served a dinner calculated to cheer and delight. The hostesses were assisted by Miss Alice Hutton, Cliff Jr., aiding and abetting in an evening's enjoyment to those who were privileged in wishing for Cliff and Bob many happy returns of the day. Following the dining the wives of guests joined them at a dance at the Lyons Hotel where joy reigned supreme until a late hour.

T. H. Alexander
Goes To Nashville

T. H. Alexander, who retired from office as Albany's postmaster last week, has gone to Nashville where he has accepted a position on The Nashville Tennessean. Mr. Alexander was on the editorial staff of The Tennessean several years ago and later was associate editor of The Daily.

The loss of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander to the civic life of the Twin Cities is keenly felt by their host of friends in Albany and Decatur. Mr. Alexander was very popular as a citizen and as an official and upon the expiration of his term, he was presented with a handsome watch chain by the postal employees as a token of the esteem in which he was held by them.

As a newspaper man, Mr. Alexander is one of the most gifted our cities have ever had. A fluent writer and keen on "news," he is an acquisition to any newspaper securing his services.

Women Men Admire

Men admire a pretty face, a good figure, but more than all a buoyant disposition and the charm of happy content. There is no question but what a light-hearted woman is the joy of a man's life, but no woman can be happy and joyful when dragged down by the ailments that so often develop headaches, backache, nervousness and "the blues."

We are continually publishing in this paper letters from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after doctors and other medicines have failed to help them. If you are ill why not give it a trial.—Advertisement.

Which is Larger the Sun or a Cent?
"Why—the sun of course" you will say. But remember—you can hold the cent so close to your eye that you lose sight of the sun. Some baking powders can be bought for a few pennies less than Calumet—but don't hold these cents too close to your eyes—you will not be able to see the quality—the purity—the dependability of CALUMET BAKING POWDER. In other words, don't be deceived by a few pennies—the cheapest baking powder in price is often the most expensive. When you buy Calumet you know that it will produce pure, sweet, and wholesome bakings. You know that you use less because it contains more than the ordinary leavening strength. Buy it—try it—be convinced. A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Black-Draught, Long in Successful Use, Praised by an Arkansas Mother, "Soon Does Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Theodor's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the liver, liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poison from the system.

In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Proven treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ailments from developing into serious troubles.

Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words, "Theodor's Black-Draught." NO. 141

JOHNSON REPORTS ON FARM EXHIBIT

In giving a brief report on the agricultural exhibit of the Tennessee Valley Industrial Exposition, County Agent W. G. Johnson expressed his appreciation of the hearty co-operation of all parties who contributed in any way toward the success of the event.

Twenty farmers of Morgan county contributed to the agricultural booth. Mr. Johnson states that a complete list of the exhibitors and prize winners will be announced at an early date. It was very gratifying to notice the interest manifested by the visitors from the North and East. Many of these expressed a desire to know more of our resources and possibilities. It was also interesting to note that many of our local people did not fully realize what could be done on the average farm in this county.

GREAT RISE IN STERLING PUZZLING

By MAX KASE
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 3.—Wall Street has had its full share of "mystery" stocks and "mystery" movements in prices, but the latest "mystery" puzzling the street is the sensational rise in the value of the English pound to within less than 50 cents of parity. In February, 1920, demand sterling sold at $3.18. Since then it has steadily advanced until during the early part of this month it sold at close to $4.40.

Manipulation by London bankers, it is believed, played a large part in the upturn. However, the advance has attracted attention to the rapid strides made by Great Britain in getting back to a peace footing. The British trade figures for January recently made public furnish a good illustration of Britain's return to a pre-war level. Imports for January were announced as 76,488,000 pounds and exports 63,146,000 pounds. This is the smallest excess of imports over exports since August, 1913.

A recognition that the labor and political situation in Britain has improved has also contributed to the strength in the British pound. Great Britain has weathered practically all of her labor storms. The long-troubled Irish situation has been satisfactorily settled. The government is now turning its efforts toward a peaceful settlement of the Egyptian controversy.

The Washington conference for the reduction of armaments, allowing for drastic cuts in government expenditures in the military branches of the government, has been a vital factor in the improvement in exchange. Another helpful influence has been the enactment into law of the foreign debt funding bill. The question of funding of the foreign debt had long been a depressing influence on European currency because of uncertainty as to when congress would demand that foreign nations repay the moneys due this country. This uncertainty has now been removed and the loans reduced to a straight business transaction, with a definite time set for payment by the passage of the funding measure.

The rise of sterling is expected to have a beneficial effect on British purchases in America, since more can now be bought per unit of British coin.

PARIS FINDS WAY TO END AUTO-SLAUGHTER

PARIS, March 3.—The Prefect of Police of Paris, Robert Loullier, has found a radical means of obliging drivers of motor vehicles in the streets to be more careful. So many accidents to pedestrians have occurred through carelessness that M. Loullier has issued instructions that in the future when any motor vehicle runs down a pedestrian or is in any way responsible for serious collisions the car shall be confiscated and put under seal and the driver sent to prison.

Should the driver be found guilty he shall serve a term of imprisonment and his car will be sold. If left free he shall be allowed to regain possession of his car and only receive a severe reprimand. These instructions have taught motor drivers in Paris to be extremely cautious.

HIGHEST BIDDER DID NOT GET THIS GIRL

"Everything For Sale," Hector Turnbull's latest story which will be shown upon the screen of the Princess Theatre Saturday is a stinging rebuke of the modern social circle. A girl refuses to sell herself in marriage to the highest bidder, the man who can give her the finest establishment, the most brilliant jewels, the most important social position. May McAvoy is the star in the play, and her distracted but gallant fight against the creed of her social circle furnishes a powerful drama; also a thrilling two reel comedy with Larry Semon.—Advertisement.

REMINISCENCES

By J. ADLAI WEST

An interesting time at the schools of 40 years ago was always had on Friday afternoon. Shortly after the noon recess hour, the command "Isued forth, 'close your books.'" This was the signal that declamations were to be made, or a spelling bee was on hand. The spelling bee was the most interesting of the two, likewise the most instructive. Everything was made ready. Two of the best spellers usually acted as captains of the spelling bee, and each would choose the spellers they considered the best.

The first choice was usually a coveted honor among the students, and when called to come around did so with a wise look, evidently thinking "I am the guy." When the choosing was completed, the two spellers generally considered the best on the respective sides would walk out and side by side would stand while the words were being given out by the teacher.

When one missed a word, that one would take a seat and another speller from one of the sides would take the place. This was pursued until all had an opportunity to prove their spelling prowess. Have seen spelling bees result in a draw when it would narrow down to the last two, one from each opposing side, and the ones who were capable of standing up through all the proceedings was lionized and held a most coveted place in the history of the school. The Blue Back speller was used, of course; no school of that period was considered properly equipped without it.

But the real-time of fun and some seriousness mixed with came when on Friday it was announced that "speech making would now take place." When speeches were to be made it was announced a week ahead that all might have fair warning to be ready to respond when called upon. And you would fare much better if you were ready to respond when called. The order was final and did not mean that you must speak if you would or liked to, but that you must speak.

The declamations usually ran from "Mary had a little lamb," "Twinkle, twinkle little star," to such heavy stuff as "Sink or swim," "Survive or perish." The fellow who could speak the latter was given close attention, and usually produced a declamation worth hearing. Compositions were also a feature on some Friday afternoon's and this feature was one of the best along the line. It consisted of original subject matter on a given subject given usually by the teacher in charge, and did much to develop the young thought of that period. Have heard some real good compositions.

Talked Like a Dutch Uncle

"My father is a physician and, naturally, I was opposed to all patent medicine. So when a friend told me to try May's Wonderful Remedy for my stomach trouble, I laughed at him. Some months later, after my father told me he had used all known remedies in my case, I met my friend again and he talked to me like a Dutch uncle and finally induced me to try it. All my symptoms have now disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or place. When speeches were to be money refunded. At all druggists.—Advertisement.

tions of a constructive nature, likewise some that were real laughable, as the first effort was made to write one by the young idea.

I now look back and can clearly see the idea sought to be accomplished by the teacher in having the boys and girls to launch out and think for themselves. It developed them in thought. Many of them thought it was unnecessary, and in some instances would lay out of school on that particular Friday afternoon, but be it remembered that there was a Monday morning coming when that matter was righted according to the idea of said teacher.

MISS BEDFORD SCORES IN FIRST STAR ROLE

The clever and charming Barbara Bedford scores a success in her first star role at the Delite Theatre today, where she appears in "Cinderella of the Hills." The personality that won a place in stardom for the vivacious Barbara was finely reflected on the screen. The story, which resorts to O. Henry's much favored idea of massed difficulties, is cleverly woven. There is a theme of mystery and another of love, and they were manipulated with skill. The result is a well-balanced photoplay.—Advertisement.
